

REDUCING THE RISKS FOR NARCOTICS AGENTS

This tuition-free 16-hour Multijurisdictional Counterdrug Task Force Training course is designed for law enforcement investigators, narcotic officers, and supervisors of narcotics units / specialty units. Attendees will learn the importance of continuously weighing the risk vs reward during narcotics operations. Real life scenarios of robberies and operations which have gone “bad” will be reviewed and discussed in length. All of our instructors have many years of experience in narcotics units, holding the position of agent, supervisor, and director of these units.

Course topics include:

- Weighing risk vs reward during operations
- Reducing temptations during operations
- Managing the risks of UC operations
- Recognizing and reacting to signs of trouble in personal or professional life
- Case studies of troubled narcotics agents
- Options for reducing the risks
- Practical exercises analyzing operations
- Case studies of recognizing and handling issues within a unit

Instructor Joe Beliveau began his law enforcement career in June of 1990 with one of the largest law enforcement agencies in Illinois. Upon graduating from the Academy, Joe was assigned to patrol where he worked for 9 years as a patrol officer and a drug interdiction officer in the St. Louis Metro East Area. In 1999, he was assigned to investigations where he spent the last 16 years. Joe has held positions as an agent, supervisor, and director of a 20-member undercover narcotics unit, supervisor of a Meth Response Team, supervisor of a gun unit, and a supervisor of a multi-agency pro-active street crimes unit in one of the most dangerous cities in the United States. Joe has been involved in thousands of undercover operations involving narcotics, firearms, car thefts, murder for hires, etc. He is also recognized as an expert by Illinois Courts, as well as the Federal Court of the Southern District of Illinois.
