Description: Confidential Informant Management Course

This course provides law enforcement and military personnel with the fundamental skills and best practices necessary to identify, recruit, and manage confidential informants (CIs).

Participants will learn to:

Navigate the complexities of "handler" relationships while adhering to legal standards and minimizing agency liability.

Recruitment & Cultivation: Identify potential informants and evaluate their motivations, ranging from financial gain to judicial leniency.

Operational Control: Master techniques for maintaining professional boundaries, issuing clear direction, and verifying information provided by the CI.

Documentation & Records: Execute proper file maintenance, including background checks, cooperation agreements, and registration protocols.

Risk Mitigation: Conduct comprehensive risk assessments to ensure officer and informant safety during deployments.

Legal & Ethical Standards: Navigate the legal aspects of informant utilization, including case law, liability issues, and constitutional requirements.
